

Dennis Hodges

Dennis believes that we're all creative and have simply forgotten. Serving as a creative catalyst (or creatalyst), Dennis shares strategies for reclaiming our innate gifts and turning ideas into action. He is the founder/CEO of Creatalist, a global strategy boutique that teaches how to unlock creativity and drive innovation in organizations and individual lives.

Dennis has led strategic marketing and customer engagement initiatives for a number of companies in Europe and the US over the past 30 years. He is also a fine art photographer.

In his talks and workshops, he mixes strategy, photography and creative thinking to challenge the audience's perspective and ignite their personal creativity.